Data Engineer Internship

Duration: Minimum 8 weeks

Location: Gent, Dok Noord, (Kortrijk, Hangar K is also an option)

ABOUT US

We're Whitespace, a young and dynamic startup that loves building cool stuff! Our SaaS tool combines the power of AI and data-driven strategies to help small eCommerce businesses create high-quality video ads using AI, saving them tons of time and effort. We're on a mission to make marketing simpler and smarter.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

This isn't your typical internship. You'll be at the heart of our product, building end-to-end data pipelines that deliver real value. From collecting the raw data, to transforming it into a usable format using both traditional methods and cutting-edge machine learning techniques. You'll also learn to analyse the data, helping uncover insights from this digital gold and provide recommendations to our team, directly shaping our product and decisions. Successful experiments will even go live in production. You'll be guided every step of the way by our CTO, gaining hands-on experience with industry-standard tools and workflows.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Design and implement end-to-end data pipelines, from data collection to transformation.
- Apply classic methods and cutting-edge machine learning techniques to extract insights from unstructured data.
- Build dashboards to visualize key insights and recommendations for stakeholders.
- Collaborate with the team to integrate your data solutions into our production environment.
- Learn how data shapes and drives product development in a real-world context.

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT

- Create pipelines and dashboards that matter
- Get hands-on with data engineering in a supportive, collaborative environment.
- Work alongside our CTO, gaining real-world experience and guidance to write production-grade code.
- You don't need to be a data wizard yet, just come with curiosity and enthusiasm, and we'll help you level up.
- The founding team has more than 15 years of combined AI experience: Simon (CEO) has grown ML6 (international AI agency) from 10 to over 100 people, Lucas (CTO) has an AI patent at ASML and built the internal ChatGPT for DPG Media.
- Be part of a young, dynamic team that's all about building cool stuff and having fun.

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

- Basic familiarity with Python, Web APIs, and general Software Engineering principles.
- Interest in data processing, machine learning and solving real-world problems.
- A curious, proactive mindset.
- Desire to work in a fast-paced startup environment.
